Star Route Cases.

WASHINGTON, September 8.—In the Criminal Court this morning another large audience assembled to hear the proceedings in the Star Route cases. A large attendance of prominent members of the bar, attests the interest taken in this last stage of the trial. All of the defendants were present with the exception of Stephen W. Dorsey. Judge Wylie began his charge to the jury with an explanation of the difficulties attending the summing up of a case of such magnitude as this. He said he would not undertake to deliver a professional lecture upon law, but it would be his endeavor to travel over the case from one point to another so far as it was necessary to do, so taking care not to trespass upon the province of the jury, the law made the jury the ultimate final power, even upon the law itself. At the same time the tradition and practice of law authorized the Court to talk to the jury with regard to facts. The opinion of the Court was not, however, to be taken as obligatory upon the jury as to questions of fact, nor should he insist upon their accepting his construction of the law; he wished them to be guarded by their consciences. He wished it understood that he was wholly uncommitted as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants. Some of the reporters had been asked to report the case in such a way as to make it appear that the Court had been offered the testimony of the defendants, but the Court had said that, in his judgment, there was enough evidence of conspiracy to be submitted to the jury, and it was upon that ground that his testimony had been offered. That was as far as the Court had gone. The judge gave a brief history of the events out of which grew this prosecution, and then addressed himself to the law. Referring to the prayers Judge Wylie said that the conspirators were jointly united for some purpose and several for others. Each man stood on his own defence. The jury could not convict one man of conspiracy, but they could convict two conspirators. If there had been only one overt act committed, and the jury acquitted the party committing it, then the defendants must all be acquitted. For instance: If the jury acquitted Brady, who had been called the key, the master key to the whole conspiracy, and no overt act were shown to have been committed by any other defendant, then they must all be acquitted. The position taken by the defendants that all of the defendants must be shown to have been interested in all the contracts, was false. If it had been shown that they were criminally interested in only one, that was sufficient, and the conspiracy was established—surplusage in an indictment would not vitiate it. This indictment charged but one offense, one conspiracy. It could not charge two conspiracies. Part of the defendants might be wholly acquitted and part convicted, but if the jury found two conspiracies, three of the parties guilty of one and the remaining four guilty of another, there the indictment failed. So much for the frame of the indictment. Now as to the proof. A conspiracy is seldom reduced to writing. It is generally entered into in a very informal way. The parties might reside in different parts of the country, but if by any means we show that they entered into an agreement to defraud the government, followed by an overt act, that was conspiracy. The law required a verdict of guilty only when the jury entertained no reasonable doubt of the guilt of the defendants. A doubt, to be reasonable, must be based upon evidence—not upon mere conjecture. The axiom was, there could be no conspiracy if it is better for 99 guilty men to escape than for 1 innocent man to suffer. It would be a very happy condition of affairs if 1 innocent man could be protected and 99 guilty men punished. An old Latin proverb said it was the fault of the judge if the wicked escape, and that was true. He would now take up one of the routes and see if it could be connected with any rational theory of innocence. It could tie the defendants were entitled to the benefit of that theory. He would select a small route—the route from Vermilion to Sioux Falls, Dakota. The date of the contract was March 15, 1878, to run four years. John W. Dorsey was the contractor. The trips were once a week, distance 50 miles, to which 2 miles had been added; the time was 14 hours. There were 9 post-offices but no town on the route. Soon after the service was put on it was discovered that the actual distance was about 70 miles, and that information had been distinctly and repeatedly furnished to the Second Assistant Postmaster-General. On December 23, 1878, the number of trips was doubled. On May 31, 79, the route was practically assigned to sub-contractors. On July 10, 1879, the number of trips was increased to six and the time reduced to ten hours, increasing the compensation to $96,133.50, deducting an hour for delays at post offices, and the courier was required to travel 70 miles in nine hours. Petitions and letters had been sent in, and it did not absolutely follow that this expenditure was fraudulent. If they could reconcile it with any theory of innocence, they must do it. A Congressman of influence, Mr. Bennett, had asked for it, and that must be considered. Soon after, every post-master on the route united in a protest to the department, saying that the time was impracticable, and asking to have the old fourteen-hour schedule restored,

Yellow Fever.

PENSACOLA, Fla., September 8.—The board of health bulletin announces nine cases of yellow fever to-day, the eleventh day of the scourge. If the disease becomes epidemic, which the gloomy aspect threatens, there will be great need of pecuniary relief, a large proportion of our residents being strangers to this people and climate. If this relief comes too late it might as well come, as witness Memphis and Grenada in 1878. Therefore, we appeal to benevolently disposed to contribute to our threatened necessity through the New York Herald.
(Signed) Geo. B. Loun,
Chairman Relief Committee under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

BROWNVILLE, TEXAS, September 8.—There were forty-eight new cases of yellow fever reported and two deaths, the latter Mexican, within the twenty-four hours ending at midnight last night. There are also four new cases among the troops at Fort Brown.
The number of yellow fever cases in Matamoros grows less day by day. There have been three deaths there since Wednesday.
Violent Rain Storm.
NEW ORLEANS, September 8.—The Picayune's San Antonio special says: "A violent rain storm commenced at 4 p. m., Wednesday, and continued until midnight. The rain fell as fast as the streets were flooded. San Antonio River rose eight feet, and many houses in the lower part of the city were flooded. San Pedro Creek, passing through the western portion of the city, rose rapidly, washing away all the bridges and houses on its banks. It also carried away fifty bales of cotton. One man reported drowned.
The International Railway suffered severely between this city and Austin. Several small bridges were destroyed, and no trains passed over that road yesterday.
The San Marcos River is rising rapidly. The Rio Grande overflowed the towns of Eagle Pass and Camargo, and is higher than before since 1859. Apprehension is felt for the safety of Brownsville and Matamoros.
Asiatic Cholera.
BOSTON, Mass., September 7.—A special from Newport, R. I., says: "A case of Asiatic cholera, it is reported, has occurred here, a seven-year-old child of Henry B. Achenbach, of New York, having died of that disease. The mother or father called an extraordinary meeting of the board of Aldermen, and the city physician has been summoned to be present. The parents of the child were away at the time of its death, and are now returning from New York to Newport. The child's remains were placed in the upper story of a cigar store, where the Achenbachs family are occupying.
It is said that for some time there has been a sanitary defect in Wagon's cottage, but the statement is not verified.
Tariff Matters.
CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The Tariff Commission to-day heard representatives of the Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota lumber trade. They expressed themselves favorable to retaining the present duty on lumber, which they said, was only from 10 to 15 per cent. The statistics they presented of the lumber trade of these three States showed that the capital engaged in it could only be stated in nine figures, the value of the product in eight figures, and the quantity produced in ten figures. Over 51,000 men are employed, and their yearly wages amount to seventeen millions of dollars now.
Forgery Trial.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., September 7.—In the case of John D. Pitts, an attorney, who is required to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt for furnishing to the press the information that he was about to move for a reopening of judgment in a case, on the ground that he had discovered that one of the principal documents had been forged, the decision of Justice Mark, of the Supreme Court, vindicates the right to furnish statements to the press before the trial. If the report is fair.
Fire.
QUEBEC, September 7.—Early this morning a fire broke out in one of the richest and most valuable blocks in St. Roch suburbs. There was water in St. Roch when the fire was discovered, and none was available for fully half an hour. As a consequence the block fronting on three streets was burned. On the fourth side of the block the fire-proof buildings stopped the flames. Several dry goods, grocery, jewelry and other stores were destroyed. Loss over $100,000.
Cholera.
NEWPORT, R. I., September 8.—Three physicians pronounced the case of the son of H. B. Achenbach, Asiatic cholera, but unmistakably a sporadic case.
MINOR DISPATCHES.
PETERSBURG, VA., September 8.—The first bale of cotton was received here this morning. It was raised on the farm of J. F. Rainy, Northampton County, N. C. It sold for 15 cents, and was classed middling.

Additional Particulars of the Earthquake.

NEW YORK, September 8.—The Central and South American Telegraph Company, although they have not thrown open their lines which have been completed to the public, furnish to the press the following additional particulars of the earthquake which occurred yesterday on the Isthmus of Panama, and which was more disastrous than yesterday's brief dispatch reported: A cable dispatch from the superintendent of the company at Panama, dated to-day, says: The damage done by the earthquake turns out to be greater than was first thought. The cathedral and many of the largest buildings in Panama are badly injured. The loss in the city is estimated at several hundred thousand dollars. Several hundred have been lost in Aspinwall. There is no communication with Aspinwall, either by rail or telegraph, and many bridges on the line of road are broken.
Assassinated.
LAS VEGAS, N. M., September 8.—Charles Harris, one of Pinkerton's railroad detectives, was assassinated Wednesday night at San Antonio, a small station a few miles South of Socorro. Two men alighted from an emigrant train, and approaching Harris, who was standing on the platform, shot him dead. The murderers escaped.
FOREIGN.
ALEXANDRIA, September 7.—The murderer of Englishmen Dobson and Richardson was hanged at 7 o'clock this morning by the native police. He was conducted from the prison through the town, escorted by a detachment of English troops, who formed a square round the gallows. The condemned man walked in an erect manner. Several hundred Europeans witnessed the execution, but few of the natives were present. When the troops were withdrawn, however, the Arabs came out in large numbers.
LONDON, September 7.—A dispatch from Ismailia to the Exchange Telegraph Company states that the troops at Tel El Maptia are going to Kassassin on Saturday, when those at Nefeh will push forward to Tel El Maptia and go on to the front on Monday. All the regiments will carry five days' rations. Gen. Wolseley will proceed to the front on Saturday.
A correspondent of the News at Alexandria has obtained from a most reliable source the exact strength of Arabi Pasha's army. The grand total is as follows: Infantry, 44,800; cavalry, 18,000; guns, 143; rocket tubes, 18; Bedouins, 3,050.
A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Alexandria says: It is rumored that the Sultan offered Egypt to England two months ago on the same conditions on which she took Cyprus. England declined the offer.
A Paris correspondent of the Times has received a communication stating that Paderewski, Castiglione and Jose Maceo, three Cuban leaders, lately succeeded in escaping from prison at Cadiz, and took refuge at Negrier, Morocco, and thence they proceeded by Gibraltar, with a view of going to America. The British police, however, notwithstanding their protestations, handed them over to the Spanish authorities. Two of them were returned to their prison at Cadiz, but Maceo was sent to the galley at Ceuta. His friends are greatly alarmed concerning his fate.
DUBLIN, September 7.—Lord Spencer to-day ordered the release of the following suspects: Two Wheelers, at whose house, on Broadstone street, a large seizure of arms was made; Kavanagh, who was suspected of an attempted murder in connection with the same affair; Meccia, who arrested for participation in the murder of Bailey, an informer, and Doyle, Davis and Keemp, who were implicated in the Seville Place murder.
"Guess I won't take in the school to-day," said a Carson urchin with an Appeal in his hand. "Why not?" "Concordia has fallen off ten cents, and I don't care to turn up until it picks up." "What have the fluctuations of Concordia got to do with your studies?" "A good deal," answered the boy. "My teacher has a hundred shares of the stock, and when it falls off a few cents we all catch it heavy. I keep my eye on the list, and when there's a break, you bet I don't go to school. I play sick. Gully! who she basted me the time Mount Diablo busted down to two dollars. When it was selling at twenty she was as good as pie. I was the first feller that got on to the break, and told the boys of my class that if she didn't sell there'd be the devil to pay. I heard uncle Fraser say it was a good shock, and I never slept a wink for a week. I grabbed the Appeal the first thing every morning; when I saw her kneel down to sixpence, I skipped to the hills. Lord, how she did bust Johnny Dobson round that morning. I was in hopes that the blasted mine would pick up, but the water got in the lower levels; and I knew we were in for it. She licked somebody for every dollar it dropped. After it struck eight it picked up a little, and we had time to get. My mother's been patching my pants now ever since the big break in Sierra Nevada, and if the market don't take a turn pretty soon I'm going to quit the public school and go to work on a ranch."—Carson City Appeal.

Kentucky Belles Who Exchange Hosiery.

Writing from White Sulphur Springs, a Chicago Times correspondent discusses as follows: one of the amusements of the belles of that famous resort: A trio of Kentucky girls are having a leg show. The exhibition consists of general on slippers, shapely legs, rolling-pin extremities that are further rounded by artificial striped stockings and broom-handle props that can advantageously wear the large cherries and roses of natural hue scattered on a light silk background. Nothing in the world was another creature from the mortification of being called fat but a pair of black silk hose that could only have been put on because of their elasticity. A little blonde with extremities like pipe-stems finds her only salvation in a Lotta stocking of thick ribbed silk that combined two rich colors in the work of enlargement. These charming organs that would bewilder—tongue-tie—the old daddies who waste their money on ballet deces, are gracefully thrown over the other knees semi-tailor fashion, unless disposed by a pinch from some unforeseen. There follows a snapping of rubber garters and a dislocation of side suspenders until some meddlesome Mattie spies a pair of satin-ribbon garters three inches wide in the overlapping loops of pink and blue that are disposed like petals. The young belle is engaged to the booby that sent them as a Christmas box. Of course, she cannot be induced to make a trade, although the other girl has set her heart on it, and offers her own pair of mock geese as an equivalent for one. Being refused, she strikes a bargain with a Michigan girl, and soon everybody is admiring her old leglets. A Chicago brunette's cry, "Let's change stockings," is received with a chorus of equals, and suiting the action to the word, she pulled off a darling little pink silk hose, fragrant with wild clover and fragile as a bride's veil. "Here's my stockings; who wants to swap?" she cried, as she whirled the limp article around and around, somewhat after the fashion of a veteran flagman. A dozen voices yelled "Me!" and before long a Kentucky belle had on one stocking from Arkansas and one from Louisiana. It certainly was amusing to see eighteen pairs of undulating thighs thrust out at right angles, balancing tiny little sandals of Spanish tics, no two pair alike, yet every lady yelled like a Modoc in her endeavor to ascertain "Who's got mine?"
